segregation. If you find that the terms quack, etc., are intended to apply to and characterize Dr. Fitch in this country, you must decide whether or not the allegations are true. If you find that he possesses a general lack of medical knowledge, as shown In terri in his analysis of urine and his general practice at the dispensary, you will then decide that the publication was made with a justifiable end. It was not strictly rebuttal to bring in lepers who were not cured, but in an ameliorated condi- Contractor and Builder tion, though I allowed it. The physicians for the defense have said that leprosy is capable of great amelioration by proper treatment, better diet and improved hygienic conditions generally. This was not strictly a rebuttal. In medical matters there is no absolute method of proving what is true. The tendency in bringing in those unfortunates was to show that they were not cured, but were on the road to cure. On the other hand you have testimony that the disease is incurable. You are not to find that Dr. Fitch has done good, but that the theory he maintains has resulted in more injury than good. I do not want to prejudite you in any way. The law is very clear on the subject. There is no censorship of the press here. A man may pubish anything he chooses. Publishers know that they are liable for what they publish. If the article is true, although defamatory, it is justifiable. Libel is of two degrees. It is for you to say under which degree, if any, this would come. We have had the opportunity of hearing, under oath, the opinions of the best physicians in this city. With these remarks, gentlemen, I leave the case in your hands.

After the Judge had charged the jury they retired and after being absent five minutes returned a verdict of not guilty, two dissenting.
